Unless otherwise stated below, all costs associated with the proposed below changes will be borne by the Management Company.

A. Clarification of the Investment Objective and Policy of the Invesco Sustainable Multi-Sector Credit Fund

From the Effective Date, the average proportion of NAV of the Invesco Sustainable Multi-Sector Credit Fund exposed to total return swaps will increase from 0% to 10%. The current maximum exposure to total return swaps for the Invesco Sustainable Multi-Sector Credit Fund is 30% and this maximum figure will remain unchanged.

It will be further clarified that exposure to eligible loans taken via swaps may be up to 10% of the Fund's NAV with an underlying index expected to be, but not limited to, of the Markit iBoxx USD Liquid Leverage Loan Index.

There are no material changes to asset allocation as a result of this clarification.

B. Clarification of the Investment Objective and Policy of the Invesco Global Income Fund

The Invesco Global Income Fund has been authorised in Hong Kong. As such, the Securities and Futures Commission (the "SFC") has requested several clarifications of the investment objective and policy of the Invesco Global Income Fund, which are being reflected in this Prospectus update.

C. Change of the Investment Policy of the Invesco Sterling Bond Fund

From the Effective Date, the investment objective and policy of the Invesco Sterling Bond Fund will be clarified to reduce its maximum exposure to High Yield from 50% to 30% and its maximum investment in contingent convertible bonds ("CoCos") to 20%.

In addition, to better reflect the approach taken under the existing strategy,, the investment objective and policy of the Invesco Sterling Bond Fund will be updated to disclose that the Invesco Sterling Bond Fund will invest "primarily" in sterling-denominated securities (primarily being defined as representing 70% of a sub-fund's NAV).The existing wording requiring the Invesco Sterling Bond Fund to invest "at least 50%" in sterling-denominated securities will be removed.

There will be no impact to the investment process, strategy or existing holdings as a result of the aforementioned changes.
